Where will Oregon's wolf numbers be in 2022? Just look east!

By Jim Akenson, Conservation
Director, February OHA Bend chapter speaker.

The above bar graph from Idaho is self-explanatory, wolves will increase at a steady rate until management actions are applied, or food resources are exhausted forcing them to move on. In Idaho, wolf population management through hunting and trapping took 15 years after the original introduction to kick-in. You can see in the above graph that the start of hunting and trapping in 2009/10 produced a leveling-of-the-curve. Elk and deer surveys from Idaho have indicated a slow recovery of elk and deer herds that were in zones having significant wolf predation but now have beneficial wolf harvest. For a regional comparison, Montana has followed a very similar population curve as Idaho going from an estimated 55 wolves in 1995 to 670 fifteen years later in 2011. Montana also now hunts wolves, although with quotas per unit similar to the way Idaho started their active management. Looking further west, the population growth for Oregon and Washington is also comparable to each other, but with a more recent starting point. Between 2009 and 2016, Oregon and Washington went from 13 and 12 wolves to 110 and 114 (minimum estimate) respectively or a very similar population growth rate for each state. Oregon's estimated wolf population for 2017, circled in red above, is well on its way to being "robust" like our neighboring state to the east. The current draft wolf plan does address the need for hunting "eventually", or upon the next planning period in about 2022, but the clock is ticking. The plan is close, it just needs to be adopted through Commission vote. The current plan had been slated for approval in April 2018, but that has been postponed indefinitely, apparently to gain better stakeholder buy-in of the plan. We sportsmen cannot let this plan approval delay indefinitely, we need to move on to real population management, and preferably before 2022! It doesn't take rocket science to illustrate that active wolf population management is essential on or before 2022 or we are not going to have much surplus big game available for hunter harvest. The time is now to express our concern – let the Fish & Wildlife Commission know what you want to see, such as management objective numbers for wolves, establishing controlled hunting and trapping of them as soon as possible, and maintaining an active assessment of wolf predation impact on deer and elk.

It is time to speak up!

CWD Update for the Bend chapter

ODFW has created a new working group to review our current Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) rules with the intent of changing certain rules (if necessary) in order to try and keep CWD out of Oregon.

CWD is not known to currently be present in Oregon. The ODFW has sampled thousands of deer/elk through the years and never had a positive test result from instate. However, in the fall of 2017 a CWD positive mule deer was brought into Oregon by a hunter hunting in MT. OSP/ODFW responded and acquired as many infected parts from the animal as possible. ODFW's goal is to try and prevent any central nervous system (CNS) tissue from entering OR from any CWD positive State.

CWD is a cervid (deer, elk, moose) disease, that is 100% fatal, and is caused by abnormal folded proteins called prions. The disease can be spread through tissues, saliva, urine, and feces. Once the disease is present in the environment, it can be impossible to eliminate.

If you, or a friend, hunt out of state, please be very familiar with Oregon's CWD rules and help keep Oregon CWD free.

Bend Hunter Education classes start February 26

Staff report

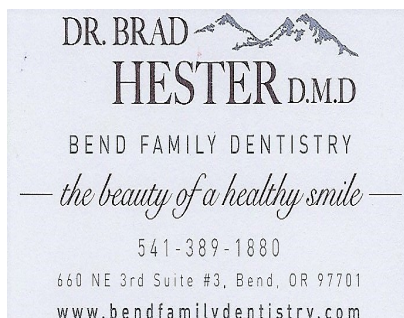

Hunter education classes start in Bend on February 26. In Crook County, classes start in early April. Harney County classes start February 12. Registration is required in advance. Visit the Department of Fish and Wildlife web site at <http://www.dfw.state.or.us> to see class listings and dates.

Call 541-388-6363 for more information.

In Oregon, there is no minimum age for hunting. If a child can pass Hunter education, they can hunt rabbits, squirrels, coyotes and birds. To hunt big game, a hunter must be at least 12-years-old, unless they are enrolled in Oregon's Mentored Youth Hunter Program.

Outside of the MYHP, Hunter Ed is mandatory for anyone under the age of 18 that intends to hunt anywhere other than on family land.

Every child may be exposed to guns at some point. Safety education teaches a respect for firearms and archery equipment that can keep them and others safe.

We'd all love to hear about your trip and see your harvest!*

Volunteer

Volunteers Needed

On Saturday May 12 we will be building a buck and pole fence about 3 miles from Sisters on National Forest land. The purpose is to protect an Aspen stand. The buck and poles will be purchased by the Mule Deer Foundation and our chapter will purchase the nails. Preparatory work will be accomplished by Heart of Oregon.

On the primary work day we will be drilling and nailing two bucks together and then drilling the poles and nailing to the bucks. The Capital Chapter will likely send some volunteers and camp near the location. Dry camping will be available with a possibility of a potluck Saturday night.

Oregon Youth Challenge will be sending two squads or 28 young adults to assist. Local RMEF Project Coordinator will be soliciting volunteers from RMEF so we hope to have several different groups participating. This project will surround an approximate 8 acre area. We will likely use a few Quads to haul in materials however our main job will be to drill and nail the bucks and poles. This is a project that is close to home so we encourage you to come out for the day and participate in a worthwhile project. For more information or to sign up contact-

Bend Chapter OHA

Charles Beckley Scholarship Introduction 2018

The Bend Chapter of the Oregon Hunters Association (OHA) has established a scholarship for higher education honoring the life-time member Charles Beckley, who passed away in 2004. Mr. Beckley was a dedicated OHA member and was among the first hunter education instructors in the state of Oregon. This scholarship furthers OHA's goal of helping to educate future hunters and outdoor enthusiasts.

Bend OHA is looking forward to handing out multiple scholarships this year ranging from $250 to $1000. The number of scholarships awarded and the amount of each is largely dependent on the amount of money available in the Charles Beckley Scholarship fund and the number of qualified applicants. Funds for these scholarships have been raised from the Charles Beckley raffle at the annual OHA Mule Deer Classic Banquet.

RULES:

Eligible applicants must be new or returning college students enrolled in any accredited trade school, technical school, community college or university.

The scholarship funds will be sent directly to the school at which the student is enrolled and will be credited to their account.

The scholarship award is a one-time gift and must be able to be used in the year it is awarded. Any unused funds will be returned to the scholarship fund by the school to be used for future awards.

Applicants must complete the scholarship application form and include an essay explaining why you should be selected. Include any past experiences that demonstrate how your values and experiences align with the OHA mission statement. You may include other materials such as letters of recommendation, photos of you engaged in outdoor activities or community service, past awards, or examples of leadership.

Applications must be postmarked by April 15, 2018.

A recipient may apply for the scholarship again in subsequent years; however, winners will be selected from all eligible applicants each year and past success does not guarantee future success.

The applicant must be an OHA member or child of a member.

If awarded a scholarship, the recipient will provide the Bend Chapter of OHA with the college scholarship contact information. The chapter will contact the school and arrange for funds to be provided directly to the school.

SELECTION CRITERIA: Applicants will be judged on their application, eligibility requirements, volunteer work, essay and other materials provided. Applications will be reviewed by the Bend OHA Scholarship Committee with recommendations to the Bend Chapter board of directors.

See www.ohabend.webs.com for information on joining the Bend Chapter of the Oregon Hunters Assoc.

For information on becoming a member of the Bend Chapter of OHA please visit our chapter website at: www.ohabend.webs.com. A copy of the scholarship application can be downloaded there.

2018 Bend Chapter OHA Scholarship Judging Criteria

Below is the criteria by which each applicant's information will be evaluated. Consider the following points when answering application questions or writing your essay.

- Verification of OHA membership or family membership
- Major course of study: Classes directed toward fish & wildlife, wildlife biology, or wildlife habitat may rate higher
- Involvement in OHA or other habitat projects
- Extracurricular participation
