All of our funds stay in Oregon to benefit our state's wildlife and hunters.

Money we raise here is money that stays here. With over 10,000 members and 27 chapters in Oregon, OHA is helping wildlife and hunters wherever you live and hunt. Here are just a few recent examples:

Working with landowners to keep private land open to public hunting.

Clearing encroaching conifers and rehabilitating aspen groves to offer better food sources for wildlife.

Installing guzzlers to provide water sources for wildlife.

Volunteering at youth hunts and other events throughout the state.

Planting seedlings to provide forage on winter range.

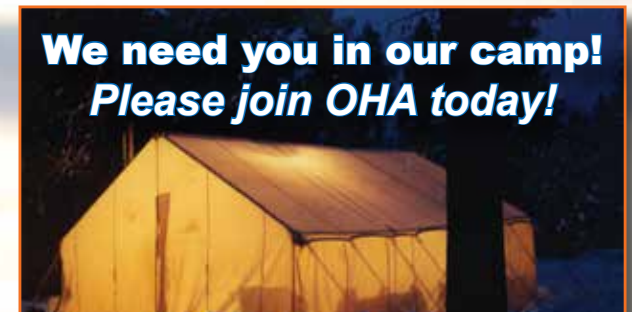

Paying rewards for reporting poaching and habitat damage.

Funding projects that provide access to public hunting ground.

Building, placing and refurbishing nesting boxes and platforms.

We need you in our camp!
