FALL 2019

For OHA junior members and children of family members

WILDLIFE POSTER AND TARGET INSIDE!

EARN YOUR WINGS!

Oregon's young guns will get a chance to earn their wings this fall at youth upland bird hunts and waterfowl hunts around the state – including a new pheasant hunt near Ontario and a second hunt in Klamath Falls. Youth pheasant hunts will be held at several locations statewide in September with shotgun skills clinics available at many of the hunt sites. Oregon Hunters Association chapter members will help out at many of these hunts, offering food, taking kids afield with dogs, and helping run the shotgun skills clinics.

Youth hunters must have a Hunter Education Certificate, Harvest Information Program validation and a permit for the area they will hunt. Youths age 14 or older also need an Oregon juvenile hunting license and an upland bird hunting validation.

The bag limit is two pheasants per day. Youths must be with an adult who is not allowed to hunt that day, and the adult may only supervise one young hunter at a time. Register early, because these hunts are very popular.

See the dates for youth bird hunts – including youth waterfowl hunts and an OHA youth chukar hunt – near you on the next page.

The youth extended weekend gives kids one last shot to bag a buck.

KIDS GET EXTRA WEEKEND TO HUNT DEER!

Oregon kids who have hunted hard in the western Oregon deer rifle season but have not tagged a deer by the end of the season will get one last shot this fall.

Youths ages 12-17 who have not filled their western Oregon deer tags by the time the season ends on Friday, Nov. 1, may hunt the following two days in the youth western Oregon deer hunt weekend Nov. 2 and 3.

This special weekend hunt was started by the Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission to give kids a chance to go afield and enjoy a fun weekend with their families without so many adults crowding the woods.

The hunt is open to kids with one of these tags that they have not filled: general season Western Oregon deer, West High Cascade (119A), or Hood-White River (141A). The bag limit is one buck with not less than a forked antler.

WATERFOWL HUNTS JUST FOR KIDS

Young Oregon hunters will get to hunt certain state wildlife areas this season without crowding by adult hunters. Some state wildlife areas and refuges have reserved dates and places just for hunters 17 and under to hunt this fall, including new hunts at the Baskett Slough NWR. An adult over 21 must accompany the youth, and the adult may not hunt. Hunters over 14 need a state waterfowl stamp and hunting license, while those over 16 also need a federal waterfowl stamp. Registration is required. See Page 26 of the Game Bird Regulations.

Fern Ridge: Nov. 30 and Dec. 30.

Klamath Wildlife Area: Oct. 19.

2 chances to chase chukars

The OHA Klamath Chapter will host a special chukar hunt just for kids on Oct. 19-20 in the Klamath Hills area south of Klamath Falls.

There is no charge for the hunt, and kids may take up to two birds a day. Kids must hunt with an adult.

Reservations are required, and only a few kids are allowed to hunt at a time. Call Klamath Chapter OHA at 541-643-7077.

The OHA Bend Chapter will hold a youth hunt for chukars and pheasants on Nov. 23. Call 541-480-7323.

KIDS GET THEIR OWN WEEKEND FOR WATERFOWL

A statewide youth waterfowl hunting weekend for hunters under age 18 will be held in Oregon on Sept. 21-22. Daily bag limits, licensing requirements and other regulations apply. Not all public land is open to hunting during this weekend, so check with your local public land management agency.

Wildlife Close-up

Pheasant

Ringneck pheasants have lived in Oregon for more than 100 years. They were first brought here from China in 1882.

Pheasants are large birds that live on grain crops. The males, called roosters, are brightly colored, while the females, called hens, are a light brown color that helps them blend in with their surroundings when they are on their nests.

Rooster pheasants are a popular game bird for hunters. Because most pheasants are found in or around farm lands, the best hunting usually takes place on private property.

Pheasant populations have dwindled in recent years because they are losing much of their habitat as homes and businesses are built where there used to be farms and fields.

Some wildlife areas now have special pheasant hunts for young hunters in the fall.

OHA HELPED OREGON KIDS HAVE A FIELD DAY!

The Oregon Hunters Association held special youth field days for kids all around the state this spring and summer.

OHA's youth days give kids a chance to test their shooting and outdoor skills, and there's usually yummy food!

OHA's first youth event of the year was the OHA and ODFW youth turkey clinic in April.

More field days were held in May and June.

There were more big events in the summer.

Some of the events were free, while others charged a small amount to cover the costs of putting on the events.

In September, OHA will be involved in youth bird hunts around the state. (See the schedule on Page 2.)

You can stay up to date on youth events in your area by logging on to www.oregonhunters.org

Young people got to try different outdoor skills at OHA youth events like this one in central Oregon.

Last call for Hunter Education!

If you haven't passed Hunter Education yet and you plan to hunt with your own licenses and tags this fall, you need to get in a class now! Oregon's Hunter Education course is required for all first-time hunters under the age of 18. It's hard to find a class by fall, so don't wait! For information about enrolling in a Hunter Education program, call 503-947-6028, extension 6015, or log on at: www.dfw.state.or.us/education/hunter

3. Treat every firearm as if it is loaded.
4. Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the firearm you are carrying.
5. Unload firearms when not in use. Leave actions open. Firearms should be cased and unloaded while in a vehicle traveling to and from shooting areas.
6. Never point a firearm at anything you do not want to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with a firearm.
