Spring 2019

For OHA junior members & children of family members

Take Aim at Turkeys!

Oregon kids can be first in the field again this year, when Oregon holds its youth turkey hunting weekend April 13-14, a few days before the regular turkey season opens April 15. Youth weekend lets kids enjoy some uncrowded hunting in Oregon's outdoors.

Chapters of the Oregon Hunters Association will offer a youth turkey clinic on April 6 at the White River Wildlife Area near The Dalles, where kids and their families learn tips and practice calling and shooting.

Lunch is included with the $10 entry fee. To cap off the event, there is a prize drawing.

For more information, call 503-358-7821.

Check out OHA's Spring & Summer Youth Days

Kids of all ages had a blast at OHA's youth days around the state last year.

Chapters of the Oregon Hunters Association will host youth field days for kids around the state this spring and summer. Most of the events are free, while some may charge a small amount to cover the costs of putting on the event. Many of the youth field days offer kids a chance to try outdoor activities and test their skills. Most of the events also offer food kids love to eat.

OHA chapters will host the yearly youth turkey clinic on April 6. The clinic will get kids ready for youth turkey hunting weekend on April 13 and 14.

Youth field days will be hosted by OHA chapters all over the state later in the spring and summer.

In September, OHA will help out at youth bird hunts around the state. To learn about youth events in your area by logging on to <https://oregonhunters.org/events/>

Apply for your fall big game tags by May 15th

Traxon Luckini tagged this antelope last August in the Gerber youth antelope hunt.

Now is the time to start planning your fall big game hunts. The 2019 Oregon Big Game Regulations offer youth hunts for kids only, as well as guaranteed first-time tags in the general big game tag drawing. Also, in the Mentored Youth Hunter Program, kids who haven't yet passed Hunter Education can hunt under the close supervision of an adult.

Youth hunts are available for deer, elk, antelope and spring bear. Planned for 2019 are 30 youth deer hunts, 58 youth elk hunts and four youth antelope hunts. Some youth hunts are harder to draw than adult hunts, so pay attention to how many hunters applied last year. The deadline to apply is May 15.

In Oregon's "first-time hunter" program, which OHA helped create, a hunter under age 18 who is unsuccessful in the controlled hunt drawing for deer or elk tags may reapply for a controlled hunt having a minimum number of tags and be guaranteed a first-time tag. For information about Oregon's "First-time hunter program," see the 2019 big game regulations. # WILDLIFE CLOSE-UP

WILD TURKEY

The wild turkey is native to North America, but not to Oregon. The first wild turkeys were brought to Oregon from other states where they are native.

Turkeys that were released into the wild have done very well in some areas of Oregon, especially around Douglas and Jackson counties in the southwest. This part of the state has habitat that turkeys like: low rolling hills and areas mixed with oak trees and evergreens. However, turkeys are now found throughout the state.

The things turkeys like to eat the most are small plants and insects.

Turkeys are most often hunted in the spring, although Oregon has a fall season, too. Only male turkeys are hunted in the spring. Adult males are called “toms” and young males are called “jakes.” Usually by this time of year the female or “hen” turkeys are on nests hatching their eggs.

In the spring time, hunters try to call in tom turkeys by sounding like hen turkeys. That’s when tom turkeys fluff their feathers and strut around to show off.

ARE YOU MISSING OUT ON PREFERENCE POINTS??

Preference points are like the money you earn tags with. Some tags are “cheap,” and you don’t need many points to get them. Sometimes those tags are “cheap” because they’re not very good tags. The best hunt tags take a lot of points to get. Kids can get extra preference points in a couple of programs you should know about, so you can make sure the kids in your family have their best shot at good tags.

Mentored Youth Hunter Program

Start with the Mentored Youth Hunter Program, if possible. The program is intended to get youngsters interested in hunting at a young age. Kids ages 9-15 can hunt with a licensed adult, on the adult’s tag or bag limit, without first passing a hunter education program, with certain rules. OHA helped change the maximum age from 13 to 15 to let busy high school students who can’t drive yet participate, too. That’s more chances for points. Registration is free.

Mentored Youth Preference Points

Kids receive one mentored youth prefer-

This young OHA member used mentor points to draw this youth antelope tag.

ence point for each year they register for the program. The most a youth could receive is seven points, if they register each year. ODFW keeps track of the points until the youth is ready to apply for a controlled hunt, even if it is after the kid turns 18. All MYHP points must be used at one time, toward one controlled hunt. Nonresidents can participate as a mentor or mentored-youth hunter.

Double Preference Points

Here’s where it gets confusing and it’s well disguised. Youth nine years of age or older can also apply for point savers provided they have a valid “Youth License.” All references to Youth Licenses say 12-17, but ignore that. Youth Game Bird Hunting Licenses (age 11 or younger) are free. Ignore that, too. It’s not either/or. Youngsters can still participate in the MYHP even after they have passed Hunter Education and purchased a Youth License. By choosing the Point Saver option for certain big game species (which always end in 99), they can double their bonus points each year until they turn 16.

This way, the youngster can only hunt under the MYHP for game animals for which he or she has no tag. For example, a 12-year-old with a hunting license could hunt for deer on their own general rifle tag after failing to draw a controlled hunt and earning a preference point. Then, he or she could hunt for elk under the MYHP with a mentor (if the youngster has no tag for elk). By doing this, young hunters could have 14 points by the time they turn 16.

SIGN UP NOW FOR HUNTER EDUCATION!

If you haven’t passed Hunter Education yet and you plan to hunt with your own licenses and tags this fall, you need to get in a class now!

Oregon’s Hunter Education course is required for all first-time hunters under the age of 18. It’s hard to find a class by fall, so don’t wait! For information about enrolling in a Hunter Education program, call 503-947-6028, or log on at: myodfw.com

O.H.A. MEMBER PLEDGE

As an OHA member, I pledge to:

- Respect the environment and wildlife;
- Respect property and landowners;
- Improve my outdoor skills and understanding of wildlife;
- Support wildlife and habitat conservation;
- Know and obey the law;
- Hunt safely;
- Show consideration of nonhunters;
- Abide by the rules of fair chase;
- Hunt only with ethical hunters; and
- Pass on an ethical hunting tradition.

10 COMMANDMENTS OF SHOOTING SAFETY

- 1. Control the direction of your firearm’s muzzle. Carry your firearm safely, keeping the safety on until ready to shoot. Keep your finger off the trigger until ready to shoot.
- 2. Identify your target and what is beyond it. Know the identifying features of the game you hunt.
- 3. Treat every firearm as if it is loaded.
- 4. Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the firearm you are carrying.
- 5. Unload firearms when not in use. Leave actions open. Firearms should be cased and unloaded while in a vehicle traveling to and from shooting areas.
- 6. Never point a firearm at anything you do not want to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with a firearm.
- 7. Never climb or jump with a loaded firearm. Never pull a firearm toward you by the muzzle.
- 8. Never fire a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water. With targets, be sure your backstop is adequate.
- 9. Store guns and ammunition separately in locked spaces out of reach of children and careless adults.
- 10. Avoid alcoholic beverages and drugs before or during shooting.

Passport to the Outdoors

YOUNG GUNS TURKEY TARGET

Pattern your shotgun, and know the limits of you and your gun. When hunting, shoot only from distances from which you can put several shot pellets in the kill zone.

GOOD SHOTS FROM OREGON'S YOUNG GUNS

Ben Cooper bagged this big mule deer for his first buck last year in the Steens Mountain Unit.

Colby O'Toole took this turkey in Douglas County last fall with a 20 gauge shotgun.

Kagen Taggart tagged this spike elk in the Alsea Unit last November with a .270 rifle.
